

LitUp! literal exchange in Zürich
Netzwerk Bar
Bülachstrasse 7
8057 Zürich

Sunday
29 November 2015
6 pm

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Dear Sir/Madam

You are cordially invited to Eva and Mauro's for yet another cozy sunday evening of multilingual literal exchange. Let's explore the secret poetic life of communicational texts!

There is a huge literal and poetic treasure junking our various mailboxes every day. Letters, adverts, emails, group chat protocols, scams, bills, etc., all written more or less purposefully in a specific context and language, carrying a beauty we often miss in our every day hazzle and jizzle.

Let's read them out (aloud).

Everyone is welcome. You can bring texts or fragments to read – or just come and listen. Whatever you consider fitting to the theme is appropriate: Poetry, essays, songs, novels, short stories, spam, sms, threema, random letters, love letters – any 'literature' in the broadest sense is welcome.

All languages are beautiful. But for the sake of understanding, please keep non-English texts short and bring translations or plot summaries in English if appropriate.

Snacks and refreshments are more than welcome!
Looking forward to hearing from you!

Always yours <3
LitUp!

PS. This LitUp! will be hosted by Eva and Mauro, thx!
The Netzwerk Bar is located at Bülachstrasse 7, in one of the inner patios, a bit hidden under.

PPS. Don't chicken out! Chegg out our extremely #DigitalNative appearances in the world wide web:
www.litup.ch & facebook.com/litupzuerich, yo!

lit 21# ette 33#E 22 21#h 21 21 21